number A: I assume you have to use 8.5 (for older versions there is no 8.5 :-( ). Open terminal and type the following commands: Unzip the tar.gz file, if you already have a one the earlier mentioned way. sudo tar -zxf binofetal-* cd to the newly extracted directory. (Note that you have to be in the same directory as the file you want to get) cd /var/www/my_test_app Now, cd into the app-repo directory. cd /var/www/my_test_app/app-repo Create a new directory, make it's name a valid folder name and ask for the permission to create it by typing the following command: sudo mkdir ros-8.5.1 Now, you have to create a new folder inside the newly created ros-8.5.1 folder. This is the folder where you will place the CMakeLists.txt file. sudo mkdir ros-8.5.1/cuda/ubuntu Now you can create the CMakeLists.txt file: sudo nano cuda/ubuntu/CMakeLists.txt You will see that there are some new lines that you should replace. You just have to copy paste the following lines: # # Only do this to set up the build environment before we start unset(CMAKE_SYSTEM_VERSION) set(CMAKE_SYSTEM_VERSION "10.0.1") set(CMAKE_C_COMPILER "/usr/bin/cc") set(CMAKE_CXX_COMPILER "/usr/bin/c++") set(CMAKE_CXX_COMPILER_ARG1 "c++") set(CMAKE_CXX_COMPILER_ID "GNU") set(CMAKE_CXX_COMPILER_VERSION "4.9.1") set(CMAKE_CXX_COMPILER_VERSION_INTERNAL "") set(CMAKE_AR "/usr/bin/ar"
