EyesProtector Free Download

EyesProtector Free Download is a utility that can be used to protect your eyes from too much time spent on the computer. Being able to protect your eyes is particularly important when you have to use your laptop for a large amount of time. This application can help you by increasing the chances of getting a decent night's sleep while still using your PC. To achieve this, this application will keep track of how much time you spend working and when you have used the computer for more than an hour, it will then display a warning message. By default, this warning message will suggest you to take a break. However, it can also prompt you to do different eye exercises or even display a screen saver if you have gotten too much time on the computer. Furthermore, this application can be configured to enable sounds as a signal for when you get a break and it can allow you to create multiple profiles that can be shared by multiple people.
