A: You need to install VNC 3 for a working remote session with Windows Vista. The remote instance of Windows Vista must have exactly the same version as your local instance. Also, I think that XP has a VNC client built-in. Check your Control Panel. Or there may be a program called Putty.

Q: Google Cloud Dataflow: How to convert Values to Strings in a custom Function

I'm new to Google Cloud Platform, and I'm trying to figure out how to turn a value like 'some string' into a string like 'some string'. I can read the value from a ParDo in the template and convert it before feeding it to the template, but I'm wondering if there's a way to do this in the Function itself. In this code,

I'm converting integers to strings in my template. ParDo(Value.of(in), new DoFn, String>() { @ProcessElement public void processElement(ProcessContext c) { String str =
    c.element().getValue().toString(); String num = Integer.toString(c.elem ent().getValue()); c.output(num + " " + str); 648931e174
